failed, and abhorring Africa, the home of their race, as nature abhors a vacuum, they have turned to Mexico, and hundreds of them are now passing through New Orleans weekly, on their way to the south side of the Rio Grande, where, it is said, the Mexican Colonization Society is supplying them with land at a nominal price. Though free and endowed with the privilege of suffrage, the negroes are not satisfied with their condition here, the few industrious and thrifty ones, because they are not recognized as social equals, and thelmany others, because they have to work in order to live. And yet before they were emancipated, and when they had no free cipated, and when they had no free chools, and the idea of voting never entered their heads, and before the abolitionists got hold of them, there never was a happier or more contented people, and a runaway negro was a rarity. But happiness and "progress" are not synonymous.

THE employes of a street car company in Brookiyn, struck, which they and a right to do. They then, by as sadding the men who were glad to take the places they had abandoned, and by injuring the property of the company, which they had no right to do, prevented the running of the cars. The Board of Aldermen of Brooklyn then met and passed a resolution revoking the company's charter. And all this, too, in one of the largest cities of the country, and where free schools and cheap newspapers abound. Of course the courts, that is if justice has not fled the country, will permit no such outrage as that attempted by the Brooklyn Aldermen, but the mere fact that such an attempt was made, is an ant illustration of the danger to which property rights are now subjected in this so-called "land of liberty."

MR. ROCHFORD, the French communist, on his return from exile to Paris, said his only desire was "to obtain for France the liberty that exits in America." Which shows that though Mr. Rochford may be well informed in respect of his own country, he is sadly ignorant of the condition of this one. In the capital of France he can be shaved, and drink his absinthe, and go to the theatre and races, and buy anything he may want, even oleomargarine, on Sunday, but he could do the United States on that day. Why, if an attempt were made to enforce the sumptuary laws of this country in Daniel, Faulkner, Hale, Hunton, Gor-Paris there would be a French revolt tion before the day was half gone.

BUSINESS AND ROMANCE.

A dispatch from London says: The mysterious schooner yacht Mohican, from New York, is not lost, as report ed in the United States, unless she has on that date she arrived at St. Michael's. Azore Islands. The Mohican sailed from New York in the latter part of November with Dr. W. Conyers Herring, his bride of a few days, and a young girl, Letitia Thompson, on board, according to general report. Miss Thompson is said to have run away from home in order to take the cruise.

Dr. Herring is the son of William Herring, the promoter of the Georgia Central Railroad. He purchased the Mohican from George Fitzgerald & Co.

The first wife of Dr. Herring was an English lady, with whom he lived in London for several years. In Eng-land the most intimate friend of Dr. Herring was Montagu Eder, who was the doctor's classmate at Oxford, and who is said to be his partner in the Mohican venture. When Dr. Herring returned to New York with his wife returned to New York with his wife Mr. Eder accompanied them. Dr. and Mrs. Herring disagreed, and Mrs. Herring returned to England, to which country she was followed by Mr. Eder. Dr. Herring began divorce proceedings early in 1894, but his wife and Mr. Eder, who came back to this country, succeeded in inducing the doctor to refrain from pushing the action. Sometime afterward Mrs. Herring began a suit against her husband, and in November last she her husband, and in November last she was granted an absolute divorce, with the privilege of marrying again. FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. SENATE.

The credentials of Senator Perkins were presented and read, and Mr. Perkins, who has been holding the office under appointment from the Governor of California took the oath of office.

A good deal of a breeze was started Rev. Dr. John B. Turpin, of Charlot arequest on the part of Senator by a request on the part of Senator Mitchell that he might be permitted to pastorate of the Baptist Church, at Americus, Ga. from the committee on claims, in regard to the claim for sugar bounty. Senator Harris, who has frequently ob-jected to similar requests, felt himself ound, as a matter of consistency, to interpose an objection, with the observation that the proper time to make re-marks upon the bill would be when the bill came before the Senate for action. The objection appeared to nettle Mr. The objection appeared to Burney that Mitchell, who remarked angrily that the objection was very unusual. "Very well," Mr. Harris retorted, "unusual as it is, I emphasize it."

"Then I withdraw the report," said Mr. Mitchell. "I will not submit it at this time."

"Then, withdraw it," said Mr. Harris resentfully.
"It is unusual," Mr. Mitchell persisted in a still more angry manner.

"I am capable," Mr. Harris said tauntingly, "of doing unusual things."
Mr. Mitchell appeared to be boiling over with rage and excitement as he exclaimed: "I appreciate that the Senator from Tennessee is capable of doing unusual and indiscreet and ungentlemanly things."

"Your conduct," Mr. Harris declared, "is contemptible."
"Let the Senator do as he pleases about that," Mr. Mitchell added defiantly.

The Vice President used his gavel for a few seconds and the two now thoroughly aroused Senators took their seats, Mr. Mitchell continuing to express his indignation to the Senators who came around him, and to explain that his purpose had been to present a report in favor of the bounty sugar laims. The routine business of the morning hour was then proceeded with, and when it was finished the District appropriation bill was taken up.

The discussion of an amendment t the District appropriation bill, for the use of the Aqueduct bridge for a street railroad, occupied two hours, and then the amendment was rejected. An amendment was offered by Mr. Proctor for the issue of seven and a half million dollars in bonds for the continuation of the sewerage system of the district. To this Mr. Laurin of fered an amendment authorizing the coinage of the seigniorage bullion in the Treasury, of which 712 millions were to be applied to the sewer construction.

Mr. Harris appealed to Mr. McLaurin to withdraw the amendment, as being out of place, on the District of Coumbia appropriation bill. Mr. Mc Laurin declined to do so, and argue that his amendment was not only mane, but that it was also a proper amendment.

Mr. Swanson said the bill was drawn on republican lines regarding the tariff. They said: "Make things prosper-ous for the manufacturer, give him big profits, and he will pay good wages to the workingmen." Regarding money the workingmen." Regarding money the bill said: "Make it easy for the bankers to get money and they will take care of the country."

· FIRE IN LEESBURG .- A fire occurred in Leesburg Sunday night which for a time threatened to become a serious conflagration. Shortly after 2 o'clock a moderate-size two-story frame dwel-ling on the rear of the lot belonging to Mr. Edward Nichols, at the corner of King and Cromwell streets, was found to be on fire, and an alarm was sounded, which brought the fire department out promptly and some two hundred citizens. The burning building was in close proximity to Mr. Nichols's dwelling and that of Mrs. J. A. Wildman, both of which were in imminent danger. Owing to the intense cold the fire apparatus were slow in getting to work, the efforts of the citizens in the meanwhile being directed towards preventing a spread of the fire, in which they were aided by the fact that the roofs were covered with snow and there was little wind. Just as the roof of Mrs. Wildman's residence began to burn the engines got to work, and, under two well-directed steams, the flames were soon under control. The location of the fire was near the centre of the town and it was surrounded by
